DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sjo in view of Rydberg et al..

Sjo discloses all of the subject matter as set forth in the claims and is identical to the invention as broadly recited. Claimed elements clearly disclosed by the reference are: a first part (3), a second part (2), a clamping member (5), male and female mating sections (12,16) comprising axially irregular surface profiles defined by portions extending to axially different extents and a cutting insert (edge) mounted on the first part which is not numbered.

Sjoo lacks the disclosure of the male and the female members being oriented on the interacting surfaces such that the male and female members intercouple only in a single position and the orientation of the male and female members prevents the male and female members from intercoupling in another position.

Rydberg et al. discloses such an arrangement. See figures 2a-c.

It would have been obvious to a skilled artisan at the time of the invention to provide Sjoo with configuration of male and female members as taught by Rydberg et al. in order to preclude the male and female members from intercoupling in another position. It is clear that only one unique single position exists for this arrangement as modified due to the unique shape of the cooperating mating surfaces.
